

My shell

This shell is so quiet
I'm floating above the sea
When I close my eyes
All is fine

Drifting out of sight
Waves are rocking me
When I close my eyes
All is fine

But today I'm feeling sick
I don't understand why
I'm feeling so weird
And I look so sad

My shell is still opaque
But I can see through it
The current is stronger than it seems

My head is spinning
I'm waiting for the storm
To rain down on my peace of mind

Today I'm feeling sick
I don't understand why
I'm feeling so weird
And I look so sad

The change of time is so quick
My eyes are open wide
I'm not ready for this
I won't step outside

I'd rather be blind
Than watch this world in the eyes
I'd rather be deaf
Than hear it groaning

I'd rather be blind
Than see this world wasting away
I'd rather be deaf
Than hear its cry for help

I'd rather be blind
Than watch this world in the eyes
I'd rather be deaf
Than hear it groaning

I'd rather be blind
Than see this world wasting away
I'd rather be deaf
Than hear its cry for help
